TEAM CHALLENGE HOURGLASS

Challenging and exciting!

Standing 24m tall, this majestic tower brings out the best in the team. Witness individuals step up as leaders to guide and motivate others. Together hand in hand, teams will have to overcome their perceived limits and fears to reach the summit.

Low Elements

Low Element courses are available at all our adventure learning sites. This is one of the most cost effective set-ups and learning tools for our organisation development programmes.

Low elements are designed to encourage participants to work together as a team and be responsible for the safety of others as well as for themselves. These are great interaction and communication tools requiring a high level of teamwork and leadership.
